Tips for Learning Japanese

- Learn the kana. It will make reading easier even if you don't know any kanji (Chinese characters used in Japanese).

- Practice. Use Japanese whenever possible or you will never get better.

- Don't give up. You can't learn a language overnight.

- Experience the culture. Knowing a second language becomes most useful when you can pick up on subtle hints that aren't explicitly taught.

- Don't be afraid to push yourself. Learning another language is a commitment.
